Foreign scammers get suitors to strip, then threaten to post video to Internet

Gatineau police issued an unusual but serious warning to the public on Wednesday: Be careful who you get naked with in front of a webcam.

Several cases of extortion have popped up stemming from a scenario where a woman engages in an online conversation with a man on a dating website and convinces him to remove his clothes for her in front of a webcam, police said.

Once the man is naked, the woman then asks him for money and threatens to share a recording of the video chat on the Internet.

Gatineau police say they have received several complaints of this kind in recent weeks. Responding to the complaints is challenging, they say, because many of the perpetrators live outside of Canada.

Gatineau police say so far there have been 10 complaints, with some victims coughing up cash and others refusing.

They are reminding the public to exercise caution when engaging in online conversations of a sexual nature. Anything that happens on the Internet could potentially be recorded and shared with the public.

Police say victims of online crimes and scams should report it immediately.

Three abandoned kids found 'filthy and dirty,' say police

Ongoing investigation.
Cops continue looking into heartbreaking case

JOE LOFARO
joe.lofaro@metronews.ca

The mother of three children who were found abandoned in abhorrent conditions in their Vanier apartment Monday is scheduled to speak with investigators on Friday, police say.

Insp. John Maxwell said the children were found in the Lebrun Street apartment "filthy and dirty." CBC News reported the eldest child — a three-year-old girl — was found half naked with feces on her leg.

All three were taken to the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario to be assessed.

"It just breaks my heart. I've got three kids myself," said Maxwell Wednesday. "It's just outrageous. It makes you furious."

The kids are now under the care of the Children's Aid Society who attended the home Monday, according to reports.

Police say the mother has been hard to get a hold of, but they managed to contact her on Wednesday. After speaking to police briefly Wednesday, Maxwell said investigators are looking into the possibility that the mother left her three kids in the care of somebody else.

The Ottawa Police's sexual-assault and child-abuse section is handling the case.

Maxwell said police spoke with a man on Monday who claimed to be the father of the three children. They had to turn him away because he couldn't prove that he was, in fact, the father.

April will be 'Earth Month' in Ottawa

Mayor Jim Watson speaks at the official launch of the Living Green Expo, which will run April 27-28 at the Ottawa Convention Centre. ALEX BOUTILIER/METRO

More than 100 exhibitors are expected for the Living Green Expo at the Ottawa Convention Centre this April.

The expo is a new event, originating from a number of former community events such as the Ottawa EcoFair and ECO Expo.

This year, organizers have partnered with the Ottawa Convention Centre to bring the region's green companies under one roof on April 27 and 28.

"We had done the Eco Stewardship Fair, and we had done the ECO Expo and both were great, but I think this just provides an even better opportunity," said Barb Moore, owner of ecoottawa.com, an environmentally friendly delivery service.

"Ottawa's ready for this. This is what people want.... The past shows were definitely an indicator that we could grow."

The expo had its official launch on Wednesday morning. Mayor Jim Watson used the opportunity to proclaim April "Earth Month" in Ottawa.

"Events like the Living Green Expo help to solidify the message that we're sending to our residents that we all have an obligation to be more environmentally conscious and sustainable," Watson told the crowd.

Admission to the expo is by donation, with proceeds going to the Ottawa chapter of the Canadian Organic Growers and Ecology Ottawa.

Late-winter ritual

City workers set to wage war against river

City workers have declared war on the ice clogging the river that winds its way through Canada's capital. The annual battle on the Rideau River pits thick frozen slabs against an arsenal that includes giant saws, sticks of dynamite and a bizarre boat with giant ice-smashing clods.

The late-winter ritual is intended to ensure ice won't clog the spring run-off, flooding homes and public buildings along its banks. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Suspect sought. Teenage girl sexually assaulted in Kanata, police say

Police say a teenage girl was sexually assaulted in Kanata after getting into a car driven by a man who offered her a ride home.

The incident started when the young girl was walking near the intersection of Hazeldean Road and Eagleson Road on Feb. 22 at 1 a.m.

After getting into the suspect's vehicle, police say he drove her to a secluded area on Robertson Road just east of Eagleson Road.

She was sexually assaulted inside the SUV, police said, and needed medical treatment following the incident.

The suspect is described as black, about 20 years old, six feet tall, with a muscular build and short black curly hair. He was wearing a black winter jacket with fur on the hood.

The vehicle is described as a black SUV similar to a Hummer.

Anyone with information about this incident is asked to contact the Ottawa Police Service Sexual Assault/Child Abuse Unit at 613-236-1222 extension 5944 or Crime Stoppers at 613-233-8477 (TIPS) or toll free at 1-800-222-8477. JOE LOFARO/METRO

Investigation. Ottawa man charged with possession of child porn

Police have charged an Ottawa man with possession of child pornography.

The arrest was a result of an online "peer-to-peer" investigation by the Ottawa Police Service's Internet Child Exploitation Unit. A search of the 53-year old's home resulted in the seizure of numerous electronic devices and other digital media, according to police.

Michel Bilodeau faces two counts of child pornography and two counts of making available child pornography. He was scheduled to appear in an Ottawa courtroom on Wednesday.

Man feels cheated by Hydro Ottawa

Shocked. Man calls $439 bill for turning power off and on after storm a cash grab

An Ottawa man is reeling from a $1,300 bill from an electrician after last week's snowstorm ripped a pole connected to his electrical meter from the side of his home.

"They claim it's my property, but it's their meter," said John David Skea from his home in Little Italy. He's disputing the $439 fee tacked on to the bill by Hydro Ottawa to turn off power to his home and restart it after repairs were made. "It just doesn't make sense to me. I'm calling into question what I'm technically responsible for."

Some 25 centimetres of wet snow was dumped on the city Feb. 28, knocking out power and giving electricians around the city a run for their money as calls rolled in reporting similar problems.

Skea was sitting down in his dining room to do his taxes that night when he heard a loud snap come from his yard. "I figured a tree branch had cracked," he said. "I went out and the wire from the pole to the house was covered with wet snow and the weight pulled the pole that goes down into the meter right down."

Calling several electricians before he hit on an available one, Skea was told by the company that because of issues across the city, he probably wouldn't have to pay the activation/reactivation fee.

This would be true if the storm were more severe, said Claudia Lemieux, a Hydro Ottawa spokesperson. "The only exemption would be a monumental storm like the ice storm," she said. "The responsibility is with the customer in this case. There's no way we would charge someone for something unless it was legitimate."

Power meters are owned by Hydro Ottawa, she said, but all attachments are the responsibility of homeowners.

"To me it's a cash grab since they get to dictate what's in and what's out," said Skea. "I haven't shovelled snow that heavy. I want to hear their justification that that wasn't a freak storm. I would like to see the customer back in customer service, but I don't see that."

Design firm Jackpine is looking to make what they think is a square deal: four days of their expertise — which they've used to make media campaigns for the likes of Adobe and former astronaut Marc Garneau — in exchange for space in the offices of another business.

"If you're an entrepreneur who has got a good idea or a non-profit that has a killer mission, but your budgets are tight and can't express all the good work you do, give us a couple cubicles and we'll make it worth your while," said Liam Mooney, founder of Jackpine, on Wednesday.

Earlier in the week, the upstart firm of four put out the call for space on Craigslist, offering to design a logo, make a video, develop a tailor-made website, set up a social-media campaign and more for any business that takes them in.

"We'll spend four days over the two months and take all our skills and make you something really special," Mooney said.

Right now, each of Mooney's employees work from home: a cost-cutting measure, he said, that removes the overhead for his business, allowing him to pass the savings on to their clients.

"What's happening now is we're getting fairly high-profile companies and we're growing beyond what we're capable of doing in our current spaces," he said.

Boycott. Anti-gay-marriage author's Superman issue pulled by publisher

Superhero-comic maker DC's decision to put a special issue of Superman by anti-gay author Orson Scott Card on ice has the owner of a Bank Street comic shop rejoicing after he helped lead a local campaign to boycott the book.

True icon. Stompin' Tom leaves final message to fans just before his death

Canadian country-folk legend Stompin' Tom Connors, whose toe-tapping musical spirit and fierce patriotism established him as one of Canada's strongest cultural icons, has died. He was 77.

Connors passed away Wednesday from what a spokesperson described as "natural causes."

Brian Edwards said the musician, rarely seen without his signature black cowboy hat and stomping cowboy boots, knew his health was declining and had penned a message for his fans a few days before his death.

In the message posted on his website, Connors says Canada kept him "inspired with its beauty, character, and spirit, driving me to keep marching on and devoted to sing about its people and places that make Canada the greatest country in the world."

Connors is survived by his wife, Lena, two sons, two daughters and several grandchildren.

Who'd kill a 'nice' couple?

'Senseless' deaths in Florida. Multiple suspects hunted in murder of Canadians enjoying their retirement together

More grim details emerged Wednesday about the "senseless" homicide of a "nice" Canadian couple in Florida that has left police mystified.

Rochelle Wise, 66, and David Pichosky, 71, were killed by asphyxiation in their winter home in Hallandale Beach, police say.

But why?

They had no enemies and likely didn't know their killers, police say.

Investigators believe they are looking for multiple suspects, but haven't been able to figure out any motive.

"As the details come out I believe the public will be shocked just to know how senseless this murder was," said police Chief Dwayne Flournoy.

Facebook redesign appeals to advertisers

Adblock? News feed will also include content-specific options

Facebook is expected to unveil a fresh design of its news feed Thursday, with changes said to include multiple content-specific feeds and larger advertisements.

The news feed has not significantly changed since 2006, and the long-awaited update is expected to make the social-networking site more attractive to advertisers.

"It's a direct shot across the bow at Google," said IDC analyst Kevin Restivo. "Those two companies are mortal enemies and this just brings them into greater competition against each other. The battleground is the advertising field."

At a news conference, Facebook promised to introduce a "new look for news feed."

In its current form, the news feed is a chronological stream of updates from friends, celebrities and companies that users follow, with few options to organize the content.

Facebook has been tight-lipped about its plans, but technology news site TechCrunch reported the company will offer new ways to filter your news feed, allowing users to switch between different categories.

For example, one could click on a photos feed to see friends' Facebook and Instagram snapshots, or a redesigned music feed to see what they're listening to. A media feed, with the latest updates from news websites, could also be an option.

Red Chamber. Senator facing heat for expense claims, relationship

Media reports say Sen. Pierre-Hugues Boisvenu is in a romantic relationship with his aide, Isabelle Lapointe. FACEBOOK

A Quebec senator is in the spotlight over reports he is in a romantic relationship with an employee on Parliament Hill.

Conservative Sen. Pierre-Hugues Boisvenu, 64, is the latest member of the red chamber to come under scrutiny as part of the ongoing controversy surrounding expense claims.

Montreal-based newspaper La Presse reported this weekend that Boisvenu claimed more than $20,000 in living expenses for his time spent in the Ottawa area, while claiming his primary residence is in Sherbrooke, Que.

Meanwhile, the newspaper reported Boisvenu is involved romantically with his aide, Isabelle Lapointe, a former criminal analyst whom he hired to be his executive assistant, also in charge of communications.

The relationship appears to go against rules governing the hiring of employees at the Senate of Canada, as far as they were explained to other media, but communications staff refused to state those rules when Torstar News Service asked about them Tuesday.

Neither Lapointe nor Boisvenu responded to interview requests Tuesday.

Boisvenu told La Presse his personal life has nothing to do with anyone but him.

Boisvenu also explained the allowance by saying that it is his legal permanent address until his divorce is finalized.

A Senate standing committee appeared to conclude his expense claims were legitimate. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Morgue worker fired for collecting pics of deceased

Quebec's coroner's office has confirmed the firing of an employee in the wake of a news report that a morgue worker collected pictures of dead women and children.

The chief coroner said Wednesday the employee was dismissed last year, months after officials received a tip from a colleague and investigated.

Chief coroner Louise Nolet would not comment on a news report that the employee created a library of photos, gathered since 1995, and would look at them when his colleagues left the room. Quebec's TVA network said the employee worked at the Quebec City morgue.

Singer cancelled Boy Scouts of America gig over group's LGBT policy

In the wake of Carly Rae Jepsen's cancellation of her Boy Scouts of America (BSA) performance due to the group's exclusion of gay people, Scouts Canada is reaffirming its stance on inclusiveness — and says Jepsen is welcome at their jamboree.

The Canadian pop star said on Twitter that “as an artist who believes in equality for all people” she was pulling out of the BSA's jamboree in July. Rock band Train also warned that it won't appear unless the organization stops barring participation by gay scouts or adult leaders.

BSA director of publicity Deron Smith said the organization appreciates “everyone's right to express an opinion.”

In May, the Boy Scouts of America's 1,400-member National Council is expected to consider a proposal to allow sponsors of local Scout units to decide for themselves whether to admit gay people.

Scouts Canada is preparing to host its jamboree from July 6 to 13 in Sylvan Lake, Alta. Galipeau extended an invitation to both Train and Jepsen to attend.

Woman appeals gay-adoption ruling

A lesbian whose adoption request was recently denied by Puerto Rico's Supreme Court is appealing the ruling.

The woman's partner gave birth to a girl, now 12, through in-vitro fertilization. Attorney Nora Vargas represents the woman and said Wednesday that it is in the child's best interest for the woman to adopt the girl as the second parent.

The announcement of the appeal comes two weeks after the high court voted 5-4 to uphold a law banning gay couples from adopting children.

It was the first time the court heard a case on same-sex adoptions.

Legislators in the U.S. territory are considering several proposals to extend more rights to gays and lesbians. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

U.S. tourist killed by tidal wave

Officials said a giant wave struck a pair of U.S. tourists strolling on the beach near the famous stone arch in the Mexican resort of Cabo San Lucas, killing a 65-year-old woman and leaving a 70-year-old man in serious condition.

State police said the two were walking back to their hotel when they were hit by the wave and dragged out to sea on Tuesday. They were pulled out by navy personnel. The woman was declared dead and the man was in serious condition Wednesday.

Authorities said the woman had a Wisconsin driver's licence and the man had one from Nebraska, but it was unclear where they were currently living or whether next of kin had been notified.

'The fight goes on! Chavez lives!'

Venezuela. Tens of thousands line the streets of Caracas, mourning the death of their influential socialist leader

A flag-draped coffin carrying the body of the late Venezuelan president Hugo Chavez floated over a sea of supporters on Wednesday on its way to a military academy where it will lie in state. Away from the procession route, jittery Venezuelans facing an uncertain future without their larger-than-life leader flocked to supermarkets and gas stations to stock up on supplies, preparing for the worst a day after Chavez succumbed to cancer.

Tens of thousands lined the streets or walked with the casket in the capital, many weeping as the body approached, led by a grim drum major. Other mourners pumped their fists and held aloft images of the late president, amid countless waving yellow, blue and red Venezuelan flags.

"The fight goes on! Chavez lives!" the mourners shouted in unison, many through eyes red from crying late into the night.

Chavez's bereaved mother, Elena Frias de Chavez, leaned against her son's casket, while a priest read a prayer before the procession left the military hospital where Chavez died at the age of 58. Vice-President Nicolas Maduro, Chavez's anointed successor, walked with the crowd, along with cabinet members and uniformed soldiers.

"I feel so much pain. So much pain," said Yamile Gil, a 38-year-old housewife. "We never wanted to see our president like this. We will always love him."

The former paratrooper will remain at the military academy until his Friday funeral, which promises to draw leaders from all over the world. Already, the presidents of Argentina, Uruguay and Bolivia have arrived to mourn a man whose death leaves an enormous void in the region's anti-American left.

Chavez's legacy

World leaders react

Some cried, some cheered. Many Latin Americans mourned the death of Venezuelan president Hugo Chavez, leaders in Europe and Asia sent condolences and Iran's president predicted great works in the afterlife.

U.S. President Barack Obama, meanwhile, focused on "a new chapter" for Venezuela, following 14 years in which Chavez cast himself as a bulwark against U.S. domination.

Chavez was seen as a hero by some for his socialist programs, his anti-U.S. rhetoric and gifts of cut-rate oil. Others considered him a bully who repressed his opponents.

clared that "Chavez is more alive than ever." Officials in Cuba, Iran and Russia had effusive praise for the late leader.

President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad of Iran announced a day of mourning and compared Chavez to a saint, saying he will "return on resurrection day."

Goodbye, swirly B: Bay gets rebranded

Modern makeover.
Retailer will now be called Hudson's Bay and use updated logo

The Bay is going back to its roots under a plan to rebrand its operations with a different name and new logo. The department store retailer says it will now be called Hudson's Bay, a nod to its parent company.

A refreshed logo uses the company's name in a simple type face. The full version resurrects its corporate coat of arms, which features a shield and cross, as well as beavers, a fox and two elk.

A spokeswoman for the company says the rest of the rebranding effort will roll out over time. The new logo already has been incorporated

The retailer called the reworking of its brand "a marriage between yesterday's history and tomorrow's vision."

Shell shock. Taco Bell fans hot over Cool Ranch delay

Some Taco Bell fans in the U.S. are angry after they couldn't get their hands on the chain's new tacos made with Cool Ranch Doritos shells a day early.

The fast-food chain had announced this week that it would release its highly anticipated Cool Ranch Doritos Locos Tacos in the U.S. on Wednesday, a day earlier than planned.

But then some fans began posting on the chain's Facebook page complaining their local restaurants didn't have them yet. They said they were told by local employees that the tacos wouldn't be available until Thursday.

"VERY disappointed!" one fan wrote. "Boo to you," wrote another. One fan posted a letter to the chain online, detailing how he and a friend made a trip to their local Taco Bell after midnight Wednesday to get their first taste of the new tacos. He said they ended up getting the regular Doritos Locos Tacos because they were "basically committed anyway."

Taco Bell, which is owned by Yum Brands Inc. of Louisville, Ky., apologized in a statement and said it was humbled by the overwhelming response.

The chain said it wanted to assure fans that Cool Ranch Doritos Locos Tacos will be available nationwide Thursday. It also said it was working to have all participating restaurants honour the early release for the remainder of Wednesday. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Policy intentions. BoC signals low interest rates will be around for a while

The Bank of Canada is hinting it is less concerned about household debt levels, making it possible to keep attractive interest rates in place longer to spur investment and economic growth.

As expected, the central bank kept its overnight policy rate at one per cent on Wednesday, the level that has been in place for about two and a half years to ease Canada's recovery from the 2008-2009 global financial meltdown.

But the bank also signalled a mild change in its thinking by softening its closely followed forward-looking guidance on rate hikes, suggesting it now expects the current rate to remain in place longer than it had previously expected.

Dow's record high boosts confidence

The Dow's new all-time high and better economic data from the U.S. propelled world markets Wednesday, with European stocks hitting a four-year high.

Investors are cheered by major central banks' commitments to keep supporting growth in the world's biggest economies. That's helped them look past political trouble in Washington, where budget cuts took effect last week.

WHOOOPS! I'M ONLY SORT OF SORRY

I'm sorry I've never said sorry.

"Sorry" has always seemed to be the hardest word, but in 2013 I've seen the error in my thinking. Between bracelet aficionado Lance Armstrong, football coach Rob Ford and anti-shirt activist Justin Bieber, I see now that sorry is the quickest, easiest path to redemption.

Whether you say sorry on Twitter, to Oprah or at a staged media event, you can take your dirty laundry and stuff it in the hamper of history, even if it never actually comes clean.

You'll notice I never said that these men apologized. I only noted that they said the word "sorry." There's a difference.

As I understand it, perhaps naively, an apology involves admitting you were wrong, offering no excuses, and owning your mistake.

Cyclist Armstrong appeared with Oprah and said sorry for using performance-enhancing drugs but also said he never considered it cheating. Oprah, a.k.a. Pope No. 3, still offered absolution and said Armstrong could be "a hero again."

HE SAYS

metronews.ca

Toronto Mayor Rob Ford, when it looked like he might lose his job, said he was sorry "to everyone who believes I should have done this differently." That's sincere in its half-heartedness, at least, though it's hard to fit on a Hallmark card.

And singer Bieber had to apologize for taking the stage at a London concert at 10:30 p.m., which is past his fan base's bedtime. It's a minor transgression, to be sure, but the fact he tweeted that "there is no excuse for that" while blaming "technical issues" in the same bird-breath has me assuming he's begun the inevitable downward spiral of a teenage pop star and in eight years will look just like Keith Richards.

Seeing that I can say sorry for my misdeeds without the pain of any emotional heavy-lifting has inspired me to step up. I'm going to follow the example set by these three wise men, and soon I'll be sorry too.

Here goes.

I'd like to say sorry to my mother for stealing her Chatelaines and Redbooks when I was 11 years old so that I might peruse them for lingerie ads and illustrated guides to breastfeeding. I'd also like to say sorry to the teenage boys who found my magazine stash in the woods and, after an initial flush of excitement, loomed gravely over the pages, looking sad and whispering aloud, "Why would anyone DO this?"

With your permission, ladies and gents, I'd like to be a hero again.

Furthermore, I'd like to say sorry for the times that I have dropped a half-full cup of coffee into a mall garbage can because I'd been too lazy to find a sink. I apologize sincerely to anyone who thinks I possibly could have done this differently, though I frankly don't see how.

I also apologize for when I do it in the future.

Finally, I'm sorry that I have coveted my neighbour's ox. Like, a lot. There's no excuse for that, but I've had some technical difficulties.

Phew! Wow, that really works. I feel better!

Maybe you need to say sorry too? Perhaps you have a hard time apologizing?

Well, I challenge you to step forward and see how it feels to sort of, kind of, in a way apologize. After all, you're better safe than sorry.

No, wait.

The crowds appear to walk upside down but on closer inspection this surreal sight is of a giant mirrored canopy.

Recently unveiled in Marseille, France, the Vieux Port pavilion — constructed by architectural firm Foster + Partners — is made of a highly polished stainless-steel covering designed to reflect the city's UNESCO World Heritage-listed harbour.

"At last in Marseille, when you are with your children, you can take in the city's hustle and bustle — without the shopping," Gaëlle, a Marseillaise who came with her two daughters, told the newspaper Le Monde.

The cost of the project, which took one year to construct, amounted to $60.3 million, sources say.

The Goodluck Assembly recorded their new album during one of the worst natural disasters to hit New York City. Despite the band's name, their whole career has been as wild as Hurricane Sandy.

Starting off as Sojourn in 2004 and winning the Live 88.5 Big Money Shot in 2008, the band has since taken a beating from the music industry.

"It was a busy couple of years, for sure," said vocalist and guitarist Bruce Libbos.

Cross-Canada touring stints with Hollerado and showcases at music festivals landed them in an unhappy space.

"[After two years] it got to the point where we wanted nothing to do with management and to do everything ourselves. They took the wind out of our sails," said Libbos.

Brother and guitarist Mike Libbos agreed: "We just wanted to play as much as possible."

They were proud of their 2009 album Glowscapes, which had songs playing on Canadian alternative air waves, but they felt pressure to conform. "Expectations were big on us to make a radio hit," said Bruce.

They decided to start over last summer as a two-piece, working out of a home studio. "For creating, we learned to rely on ourselves," said Bruce.

They recorded in New York City last November and named their new album Demonstrations — a reference to the process of exorcising their past career and relationship demons.

"It's poppy, but definitely got a darker, honest feel," said Mike.

Two weeks into recording, Hurricane Sandy threatened to destroy everything.

"We didn't know if that studio would be there, let alone have an album left," said Mike.

They slept on producer Gus Van Gogh's studio floor during power outages and wicked winds and used the looming threat to fuel a sense of urgency to the emotionally complex album, especially in Bruce's final vocal deliveries.

"It put everything into perspective," said Bruce. "I felt like I was ready [and] I'd take advantage of it if it was the end of the world."

They say they are eager to return to the intimate venue, Café Dekcuf, where they first debuted as The Goodluck Assembly in 2004.

Listening to their anthemic single, Wait for Me, it's obvious they've finally caught up to their musical goals.

They know Jack — actors grilled Chow on late husband

Piecing together a life. Stars of CBC-TV movie relied on details from his wife to colour their performances

Olivia Chow says she was determined to ensure that the upcoming CBC-TV movie about late New Democratic Party leader Jack Layton offered a complete picture of her husband.

That meant succumbing to intense "grilling" by stars Rick Roberts, who plays Layton, and Sook-Yin Lee, who plays Chow — as well as executive producer Laszlo Barna, a giant in the field whose past projects have profiled Celine Dion, Shania Twain and Romeo Dallaire.

Still, there was one thing Layton's widow refused to reveal — the cancer that killed him. Chow has never identified what exactly led to Layton's death in August 2011, and although Barna pressed her to reveal it now, she refused.

"Cancer is vicious and we decided — I decided and Jack decided — not to talk about the one that actually killed him," Chow said in a recent interview to promote the film. "We talked about prostate cancer but prostate cancer is infinitely curable. And a lot of men have prostate cancer. We don't want to inflict despair into people that have a serious cancer disease that can take you in a few weeks."

The film Jack kicks off in early 2011, about a year after Layton revealed he was diagnosed with prostate cancer.

Boasting that his health has rebounded, he embarks on a federal election campaign to lead the New Democrats to unprecedented wins, achieving official Opposition party status for the first time in the party's 50-year history in May 2011. He died just months later at age 61.

Through flashbacks, the film traces Layton's rocky journey from Toronto municipal politics to the national stage, as well as his love affair with Chow.

"The harder part for me was piecing together (Olivia Chow's) personality," said Lee, host of CBC Radio's weekly show Definitely Not the Opera.

"She's a woman of few words — very few words — and even with this litany of questions that we assailed her with she would answer in a very brief (way). And I kept sending more and more questions to her and they were equally as brief. So I just had to sort of lean on my investigative ability as a journalist."

Rumours have been swirling around Miley Cyrus' fiancé Liam Hemsworth and Mad Men star January Jones getting "hot and heavy" at a pre-Oscar party at the Chateau Marmont in February and now Life & Style has additional dirt on the illicit hook-up.

"They went to a private house party, and right in the middle of the party, January was clinging to Liam, saying, 'You're so handsome,'" a guest reveals in the new issue of Life & Style. "He kept saying, 'We can't do this here.' Then they left holding hands and went out in the hallway and were making out. She was wasted. It wasn't good."

For their part, the magazine has pictures of the two stars riding in a car together on the night in question. "When it comes to men, January just goes for it," another source tells the magazine. "She doesn't seem to care if they're with someone or not. It's like a challenge for her, a game."

As challenges go, drunkenly making out with Liam Hemsworth seems like an easy one. What about climbing Mount Kilimanjaro? Or staying off of Facebook for an entire week? Those are actual challenges, January.

Lady Gaga's fans are continuing the singer's feud with Madonna whether she wants them to or not, this time even accusing the Material Girl singer of helping the spread of AIDS. In a post on the Gaga fan blog Little Monster Artpop, a Gaga fan criticizes the Gay and Lesbian Alliance Against Defamation (GLAAD) for picking Madonna to present an award to Anderson Cooper at their awards ceremony next week. "Back in the 1980s, she encouraged gay men to have unprotected sex," read the post, which was removed shortly after garnering media attention. "While she certainly didn't start the disease, she and her lack of morals helped it spread." The post's author vowed to "strike back" in an unspecified manner if GLAAD did not choose another presenter.

Big Rig Champion Czech Pilsner

Traditional Pilsner.
A beautiful beer for the beautiful game

JEFF O'REILLY
For Metro

It is always a wonder how people find inspiration, and in brewing, not surprisingly brewers find it in beer and things that seem to go hand in hand with the enjoyment of beer.

So while boxing may be the "sweet science," and hockey may be "our game," there is only one "beautiful game" and that's football, er, soccer.

Big Rig's BrewMaster Lon Ladell has long been a fan of this glorious game; playing it from childhood, then later coaching and still keeping active in a recreational Men's Over-35 league. His passion for soccer continues both on and off the pitch.

Weekends in many a household and pub are dominated by Saturday morning soccer matches, and we are now well into the European tournament season which is seeing some really great matches on weekday afternoons – and the launch of a new beer that coincided with the much anticipated and highly hyped Round of 16 Champions League game on Tuesday that saw Real Madrid beat Manchester United 2-1 (with the referee handing out more cards than a blackjack dealer, it proved once again that fans will complain about the officiating in just about every sporting event). The loss knocked Man U out of the tournament that promises much excitement before it finally ends at Wembley Stadium on May 25.

While Ladell has long been a supporter of the Tottenham Hotspur Football Club, who are sitting nicely in third spot in the English Premier League and will be facing Inter Milan later this afternoon in the start of the Europa League's Round of 16 (formerly the UEFA Cup).

The Spurs coincidentally won the first UEFA CUP back in 1972 but haven't hoisted it since 1984, and speaking of hoisting these exciting soccer matches certainly lend themselves to the pleasures of enjoying a few pints while watching magnificently skilled players control the ball with pin point accuracy and a pace that is sometimes dizzying.

So in all this soccer talk, Ladell would find himself appreciating the guilty pleasure of a couple tall cans of various Euro Super-Lagers (Pilsner Urquell, Heineken, Carlsberg and others) while watching these matches thinking to himself that he should be brewing these kinds of beers for himself and his friends, only better.

You see most craft brewers stick to brewing ales that showcase different interpretations of bigger, bolder and sometimes more unusual flavours than the already lager dominated market has available showing off their creativity in a way that differentiates themselves from their competitors.

Lagers need to be stored for a much longer time than ales making them more expensive and even impractical to produce for smaller operators, and then there is always the argument of taste.

With lagers being lighter and more delicate it is more challenging to create a consistently excellent lager as a more refined taste as an intended end result in theory also means less distractions in that taste to hide behind, and the craftsmanship and patience it takes to brew a really great lager is in itself a thing of beauty. But less taste certainly doesn't need to mean no taste.

Ladell's latest creation is a traditional unfiltered pilsner lager – the way it was brewed more than 150 years ago, and in our conversation of maintaining some of the fuller flavours lagers may present versus the crystal clear appearance that many have grown accustomed to Ladell explains, "Lots of lagers start out with flavour and then everything gets stripped back to create the expected appearance having a quick, clean finish, and lots of times – that's it, that's all your left with."

My philosophy about brewing has always been to brew true to style – good and clean – that's my roots. So I wanted to make something that would be a great representation of the true characteristics of a classic lager." He has certainly succeeded with this beer as it is a fitting tribute to the legends of Czech brewing and a perfect wingman to enjoy watching sports.

Big Rig's Champion Czech Pilsner (5.0% ABV 35 IBUs) pours a translucent slightly cloudy honey gold with a thick creamy tight white head of tiny bubbles. The aroma of distinct bright floral and slightly spicy Saaz hops and fresh baked bread like malts in itself tells me that this pilsner is a winner, so with taste that are grassy, slightly sweet and lemony with doughy malts and hint of delicate bitterness throughout.

The beer has pleasant creamy carbonation, medium bodied and very smooth, very fresh and very refreshing with a short finish. This beer is a champion in its own right, and I hope that Big Rig can find the capacity to brew this year round, but if they can't I suggest you run down and grab a pint while you can.

Dishcrawl event a fun tasting tour

Secret Event. The meeting point starts at undisclosed secret location

Dishcrawl is a secret foodie dining event that's taking off across North America and at last, Ottawa's joining in on the mystery. "It's going to be super exciting," said Dishcrawl ambassador Kimberly Dawkins. You can travel to New York City for a similar tasting tour but chances are you're a tourist there and everything is new. Dishcrawl is about bringing you and your tastebuds to new places or allowing chefs to try new plates or seasonal twists. "Part of the experience is the chefs coming out and chatting with the diners," said Dawkins.

Next Wednesday, March 13 the Dishcrawl focuses on the Byward market where diners will go to four undisclosed restaurants by foot. "It's more like a tasting tour," said Dawkins. "The first three are little app plates and fourth is a dessert." She promised that there would be something for everyone to enjoy and a wide variety of styles from some "Favourite restaurants." (Last Spring's event had Dishcrawlers going through Chinatown and Little Italy to places like La Favorita and My Sweet Tea.)

There is room for about 40 participants and it is a great opportunity to meet new people. That reasoning inspired Dawkins, "I thought it was a really neat idea of bringing people around food and really like idea of community sharing meals."

While local radio celebrities will be joining the walking tour, you don't have to be a food critic or blogger to enjoy the experience. Dawkins hopes that the conversation moves beyond just the delicious meal so that you can break bread again soon. PRODUCER: Fromagerie La Suisse Normande, St-Roch-de-L'Achigan, Quebec

FACT: Sélection Caseus, Quebec fine cheese competition, are the coveted cheese awards showcasing the best of the best of Quebec artisan cheeses, including a category voted by the public.

This small, soft, surface-ripened pasteurized cow's milk cheese is fashioned after the Swiss tomme Vaudois, due to its shape (small wheel) and size (only 1/2-inch thick). Le Pizy has a thick bloomy ivory rind, with a rich, dense, paste coloring between ivory and pearl.

Experience big milky, fresh field mushroom aromas and a fresh lactic taste with a sweet tang when it's young softening out as it ages. Winner at the 2010 Sélection Caseus awards in Quebec for soft cow's milk cheese, yummy, gooey, Le Pizy is just a hop, skip and a jump away – waiting for you at La Trappe à Fromages in Gatineau.

top your must-do list on your next trip to Montreal (just off Hwy. 158, north of the 50).

Steady diet of Downton Abbey

Cookbook cooking.

Latest season of the show recently wrapped so to hold you over, try this inspired recipe

A roast chicken can be elegant to serve. This is a great recipe for beginners as it uses lemons to help keep the chicken moist and flavourful, Pamela Foster writes in her book Abbey Cooks Entertain.

Try not to knock it on the floor as Mrs. Patmore famously did in Season 1 of Downton Abbey, but if you do, just dust it off and carry on.

1. Clean and prepare root veg. Roughly chop into large chunks. Place in a roasting pan with a grill rack. Pour a little olive oil over vegetables, add garlic and toss in fresh herbs.

2. Remove any giblets from chicken cavity and wipe down chicken with paper towels. Rub with oil, salt and pepper. You can also rub it with other dried herbs (rosemary, thyme, herbes de Provence).

This recipe serves three. THE CANADIAN PRESS H/O

3. Gently separate breast skin from meat on each side with your finger. Insert lemon slices and fresh herbs which will help flavour the bird. Lemon does a great job of moisturizing the chicken from the inside out. Depending on the size of the chicken, either cut the second lemon in half, or prick lemon all over and stuff it into the cavity. Tuck wings under the back, but there's no need to truss it (tie the legs together). Place, uncovered, in a 190 C (375 F) oven.

4. As a general rule, calculate a cooking time of 20 minutes per 500 g (1 lb) of meat. The temperature of the chicken needs to reach 74 to 77 C (165 to 170 F) when a meat thermometer is placed in the thickest part of the meat, avoiding any bones. If you don't have a thermometer, the juices should run clear when you poke into the thigh.

5. When chicken is cooked, let it rest for 20 minutes to let juices settle into meat. If you cut it too soon, you will see all the flavour on your cutting board. Remove from roasting pan, cover with tinfoil and get your table setting ready. Carve chicken and serve with roasted vegetables. THE CANADIAN PRESS/ ABBEY COOKS ENTERTAIN BY PAMELA FOSTER (PAMELA POWERED INC., 2012)

App. Asparagus Salad & Saffron Vinaigrette

This classic salad was served in first class on the Titanic, and to the servants at a special occasion in Season 3 of Downton Abbey.

1. Snap off woody ends of asparagus at a natural breaking point. Save ends for stock pot.

2. In pot of boiling water, cook asparagus spears 5 minutes or until tender but not limp. Drain and run spears under cold water until cooled. Drain and set aside while you prepare dressing.

3. In bowl, stir saffron into 5 ml (1 tsp) boiling water. Let stand 2 minutes or until saffron softens. Stir in vinegar, mustard and sugar. Whisk in olive oil. Season mixture with salt and pepper. Add asparagus and diced pepper and toss gently to coat with vinaigrette.

4. Line a platter with salad greens and arrange asparagus mixture decoratively on top. THE CANADIAN PRESS/ ABBEY COOKS ENTERTAIN BY PAMELA FOSTER (PAMELA POWERED INC., 2012)

Ingredients

- 500 g (1 lb) asparagus
- 1 ml (1/4 tsp) saffron threads
- 22 ml (1 1/2 tbsp) white wine vinegar
- 2 ml (1/2 tsp) Dijon-style mustard
- Pinch of sugar
- 45 ml (3 tbsp) extra-virgin olive oil
- Salt and pepper, to taste
- 1/2 sweet red pepper, diced
- Salad greens, for garnish

Seasonal designer deals

Throughout the year sales are almost guaranteed when clearing out old stock and bringing in new items. But knowing exactly when old stock is being discounted is the key to saving money on large ticket items. Everyone knows the best time to buy a winter coat is at the end of winter, and buying a snowmobile in the middle of summer can get you the best deal. But what about those home-related items we all need? Here's a list of some big savings you should expect over the next month or two.

DESIGN CENTRE
Karl Lohnes
home@metronews.ca

Chinaware and flatware

Spring is when new tabletop designs are introduced (just in time for June weddings). Older china and flatware patterns go on sale to make room for the new stuff.

Tip: If you have a great collection already, look for pieces to complete your set on sale. If investing in new tableware, keep the colours neutral so that the look stays current for a long time.

Perfume

The two biggest times for perfume sales is Valentine's Day and Mother's Day, so those in-between months is when perfume companies love to have promotions.

Tip: Perfume keeps for a very long time. Consider buying as Christmas gifts.

Luggage

Many travel throughout the summer and just before that time is when new luggage styles are introduced. Look to the early spring for retailers clearing out old styles.

Tip: The full set deals are the most economical. Shop with a friend and split up the set.

Houses & condos

April is when most homes get listed for sale. That means the best selection and often the best competitive prices you will see. If you wait until the summer months you will find either the less desirable homes that haven't sold yet or a very limited choice on the market. Tip: Don't underestimate the potential of a less expensive place and adding some custom upgrades yourself. You'll then have exactly what you wanted without spending any more money.

"Off-season" shopping

1 Do your research. When it comes to technology, things move quickly. Find out what features will be new in 2013 and see if any of them may have been introduced on last year's models.

2 Buy in full sets. Whether it be buying luggage, china, bedding or cookware, purchasing the entire set will generally reap larger savings overall.

3 Keep things neutral. A simpler colour will tend to last a lot longer than last year's trendiest colour.

4 Buy ahead of the game. Purchasing perfume for a friend's future birthday gift, tableware as a wedding gift or a television prior to your renovation will allow you to save money on something you inevitably would be buying anyway.

Vacuum cleaners

Spring cleaning time starts in April and retailers are making room for their new models.

Tip: Look for vacuums that are smaller, lightweight and quieter.

Televisions

The biggest time for television sales is the fall and early winter. After Christmas there isn't much promise for selling televisions as we start thinking about spring/summer activities, so retailers are trying to get rid of the 2012/early 2013 models.

Tip: Buy your television ahead of a family room renovation and keep it boxed until the reno is finished.

Cookware

Not a lot of pot/pan sales happen until fall, when retailers often have great incentives to purchase full sets.

Tip: Fall is a great time to purchase some as a wedding gift or for a second set for a cottage and buying a full 10-piece boxed set will usually offer up the best value overall.

Creative concepts help add some comfort and function to your home

DIY ideas. Bringing in your own artistic flair may be just what your family room needs

Creating a space you want to live in doesn't have to be boring. Get inspired by new series Made in Milwaukee, where Jeremy Sham and his team don't just renovate rooms but create original works of art.

It can be tough to get design inspiration for a family room because they tend to always be messy — full of clutter and people. However, that doesn't have to be the case with these fun ideas:

Organization

Create stations within the room to keep mess and clutter in one spot for easy clean-up, while keeping an area sectioned off for the adults. Add a large television shelving unit to put your movies and collections on display.

You can get creative with your shelving options — such as re-using hardwood flooring for durable shelves, or plexiglass shelving where items will appear as if they're floating.

Walls

Breathe life into your family room with paint. Opt for an ombré wall getting lighter with the colour as the paint gets closer to the ceiling, which creates the illusion of high ceilings.

Painting one wall in the room a bright color or applying a dramatic wall paper design can add an artsy element to the room.

Magnetic paint is a kid friendly and fun option. Simply paint over the current wall color and let dry, then stick and unstick to your heart's content.

Another unique idea to consider for your children's entertainment is a chalk-board wall or chalkboard table top. Chalk board paint is easily accessible and has the same application process as regular paint.

Decor

3D wall art is a popular trend with endless options such as stickers, plastic flowers and butterflies, and even dinosaur heads.

Arrange the 3D butterflies and flowers in an eye-engaging design and you will feel as if you're at an art gallery.

Next time you're considering renovating your dingy family room, think originality not ordinary. Both you and your family will thank you for it.

RENT DEPOSITS RULES TO KNOW

Your rent deposit is based on the rental period

A landlord can collect a rent deposit if it is requested on or before the day that the landlord and tenant enter into the tenancy agreement. The rent deposit cannot be more than one month's rent or the rent for one rental period, whichever is less. For example, if rent payments are made weekly, the deposit cannot be more than one week's rent; if rent payments are made monthly or bi-monthly, the deposit cannot be more than one month's rent.

The rent deposit must be used for the rent for the last month before the tenancy ends. It cannot be used for anything else, such as to pay for damages.

If the rent increases after a tenant has paid a rent deposit, the landlord can ask the tenant to pay an additional amount towards the rent deposit so that it is the same as the new rent.

If a tenant gives notice that they want to move and the landlord has not previously asked the tenant to top up the rent deposit, the landlord still has the right to ask the tenant to pay an additional amount towards the rent for the last month, so that it is the same as the current rent.

The landlord must pay the tenant interest on the rent deposit every 12 months. The amount of interest that a landlord must pay is the same as the rent increase guideline that is in effect when the interest payment is due. The guideline is set each year by the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing. Information about this year's rent increase guideline can be found on their website.

If the landlord does not pay the interest owed to the tenant when it is due, the tenant can: deduct the interest from a future rent payment, or file a Tenant Application for a Rebate form to the Landlord and Tenant Board.

A landlord ask for a deposit for keys only if the deposit is refundable and, the amount of the deposit is not more than the expected cost of replacing the key if they are not returned to the landlord.

The landlord must give the deposit back when the tenant turns in their key at the end of their tenancy.

The landlord can charge a tenant for additional keys that the tenant requests (for example, if the tenant wants an extra key or if the tenant has lost their key), however, the charge cannot be more than the actual cost to the landlord to get the additional keys.

A tenant does not have to pay for new keys when the landlord decides to replace the lock with a new one, but the landlord may ask for a refundable key deposit for the new keys.

A landlord cannot collect a damage deposit that they would use if there is damage done to the unit. Also, a landlord cannot use the last month's rent deposit to cover damages in the unit. If the landlord finds that a tenant has damaged the unit or caused damage to the building, the landlord can give the tenant a notice and/or ask them to pay for the damages. If they do not, the landlord can apply to have the Board determine if there are damages and what should be done about them.

If a tenant's rent cheque is returned NSF, a landlord can ask the tenant to pay for the charges the landlord has to pay to the bank, plus an administrative charge of up to $20.

Homan likes her chances at world championship

Curling. Ottawa skip won't be intimidated by more seasoned peers

Rachel Homan wasn't intimidated by big names like Nedomin, Jones, Scott and Arsenault at the recent Scotties Tournament of Hearts.

The young Ottawa skip beat them all en route to her first Canadian women's curling title.

Next up is the world women's curling championship in Riga, Latvia. Homan will represent Canada at the March 16-24 event and her confidence is just as high now as it was before the nationals.

"Before we went in (to the Scotties) I said that I believed that we could win it," Homan said. "The same goes for worlds."

Scotland's Eve Muirhead, China's Bingyu Wang and Germany's Andrea Schoepp are some of the other top skips in the 12-team field at the Volvo Sports Center. Homan, 23, estimates she has played about half of the skips in the field over her career. The Canadian rink of Homan, Emma Miskew, Alison Kreviazuk and Lisa Weagle will open round-robin play against Scotland.

Also competing are Denmark's Lene Nielsen, Switzerland's Silvana Tirinzoni, Japan's Satsuki Fujisawa, Italy's Diana Gaspari, Russia's Anna Sidorova and Sweden's Margaretha Sigfridsson. Erika Brown will lead the American team and Iveta Stasa-Sarsune will skip the host Latvian side. THE CANADIAN PRESS

The game plan

Sticking to her guns

Canadian coach Earle Morris said the Homan team will use the same approach at the world championship that it did at the provincial and national playdowns.

"You don't have to raise your level of play, you just have to keep doing all the great things that you already do and the outcomes will take care of themselves," Morris said.

The Canadian rink showed what it was capable of last month in Kingston with remarkably consistent play. Homan plowed through the competition and knocked off veteran Manitoba skip Jennifer Jones in the final.

Rangers await news on Staal, call on vet Hamrlik

Marc Staal is helped off the ice after he was hit in the face with a puck in the third period against the Philadelphia Flyers on Tuesday. Doctors are still trying to determine the extent of the injury. ELSA/GETTY IMAGES

NHL. Former No. 1 pick claimed off waivers to fill in for injured defenceman

The Rangers are adding veteran defenceman Roman Hamrlik to the roster while they wait to find out the severity of Marc Staal's eye injury.

New York claimed the 38-year-old Hamrlik off waivers from the Washington Capitals on Wednesday, one day after Staal was struck in the eye by a deflected puck in the third period of the Rangers' 4-2 win over Philadelphia.

Staal, who wasn't wearing a visor, writhed on the ice in pain before being helped to the dressing room. There was no update to his condition Tuesday night or Wednesday morning.

Hamrlik, the active leader with 1,383 NHL games played, was waived by the Capitals on

Horoscopes

Aries

March 21 - April 20

Don't worry too much if your thoughts take you in directions you would not want to admit to in public. Think before you turn thoughts into deeds though.

Taurus

April 21 - May 21

Someone you meet today will instantly attract you. It could be the start of a life-long friendship or even a passionate romantic liaison. Either way it's going to be a lot of fun — and that's good.

Gemini

May 22 - June 21

You may be tempted to tell the world your plans but with Mercury, your ruler, still moving retrograde that might not be such a good idea. Only let those you really trust know what you are up to.

Cancer

June 22 - July 23

You will see some strange things today but don't take any of it seriously. Maintain a detached attitude, even though there may be times when you want to bang a few heads together.

Leo

July 24 - Aug. 23

There is no telling what spur-of-the-moment decisions you will make over the next 24 hours, but you will certainly do something out of the ordinary. Try though to look ahead and see what the consequences might be.

Virgo

Aug. 24 - Sept. 23

You could easily impose your will on other people today but is that such a good idea? A little bit of thought should help you see that if you come on too strong you'll lose.

Libra

Sept. 24 - Oct. 23

Do you let your heart rule your head today? It might be a smart idea as with mind planet Mercury still moving retrograde your thoughts may be all over the place. What does your inner voice tell you?

Scorpio

Oct. 24 - Nov. 22

There is no point trying to coerce people whose worldview is completely different to your own. All that does is make them oppose you even more. Accept that you see things differently.

Sagittarius

Nov. 23 - Dec. 21

There is a danger that you will bounce back and forth between two extremes today. It may not bother you much but it could turn important people against you, so think before you act.

Capricorn

Dec. 22 - Jan. 20

Even if you disagree strongly with what loved ones are up to right now, you are advised to gloss over the fact and stay on good terms. It gives you a bargaining chip for later.

Aquarius

Jan. 21 - Feb. 19

Feelings will be running high today and you may wish you could switch off the world. So why don't you? While everyone else is busy arguing you can sneak off.

Pisces

Feb. 20 - March 20

A relationship may be going through a tough time but don't give up on it. Love planet Venus in your sign links to both Saturn and Pluto today, which means you are nowhere near the end of the road yet. SALLY BROMPTON
